Technical Support

Version 7.x will be supported until Kofax V.9.0 is released. At this point in time, Kofax has not published a release date for Kofax version 9. Customers can upgrade directly from version 7.0 to 8.0. If you would like assistance with upgrading your Kofax system, please contact your IDT Account Manager. As a certified Kofax reseller, IDT can assist you by providing professional services to upgrade your current Kofax application and make sure that you fully realize all of the benefits of V8.0.

Kofax License Changes

For Kofax version 8.0, all image volume is calculated on an annual basis versus images per month. The transition to annual volume licensing is less restrictive and more flexible, especially for customers who have inconsistent monthly volumes. This also makes for an easier transition for customers who wish to move to Enterprise licensing.

All Kofax customers under software assurance program will have until September 18, 2008 to upgrade to version 8.0. With this upgrade, your Kofax system will be automatically converted from a monthly to a yearly volume license at no additional charge. After September 18, 2008 customers will not be able to add monthly volume to Version 7.x. If there is a need to add additional licensing, customers will have to convert to the annual volume license, and pay the associated conversion fees and upgrade to version 8.0. Customers will then be able to add annual volume licensing in Version 8.0.

Please Note: For customers who do not upgrade to version 8.0 by September, 18 /2008 a monthly to yearly license conversion cost will apply.

In addition, Kofax has announced an increase in cost to add monthly volume to an existing Kofax version 7.x system. Kofax has also simplified the pricing model for version 8.0. Licensing is now annualized and based on the number concurrent stations.

As always, please contact your IDT Account Manager, at 630-875-1100, for further details and for answers to any questions you may have.

IDT wants to thank you again for your business and for being a valued customer.
